

Mezzanine Floor:

Standard mezzanine floors are designed to support a live load of 150 lbs. per square foot. Floor support beams are included in the structural steel. Elevations for mezzanine floors can be established at any desired location to facilitate the mill design.

Choice of Floor Construction:

Floors can be designed for heavier loads when required.

